

Quantum Biofeedback: Computerized Health Scan

Comprehensive, Non-Invasive and Informative

Biofeedback: A well established system that uses advanced computer software to communicate with your body. The computer receives information about rhythms and stressors in your body and provides treatment to bring your body into balance - reducing stress.

Quantum: With Quantum Biofeedback, your body is evaluated in multiple dimensions. The QXCI is programmed with thousands of assessment tools. Using mathematical images or fractals, the QXCI evaluates and interprets the patterns in your body, determines what is causing the most stress, and shows what your body wants for support.

Quantum Biofeedback can provide information about adrenal function, brain function, immune function, hydration, nutrients, hormones, pH levels, toxins, bacteria, yeast, and your body's capacity to deal with pathogens.

Quantum Biofeedback can be particularly effective in dealing with Lyme disease, tick-borne illness, ADD, autism, fatigue, pain syndromes, and allergies.

What to Expect in a Quantum Biofeedback Session:

An initial biofeedback session takes approximately two hours. The client is seated comfortably, and wears wrist and ankle straps as well as a headband, all of which are connected to the machine.

Within the first two sessions, clients acquire new information, learn self-help techniques, and are supported by a new process to enhance their health and well-being through energetic stress reduction techniques.

Together, client and practitioner develop a plan to avoid items that cause stress to the body and to incorporate items that support the body.

Follow-up sessions are usually scheduled for one hour. Within four to eight sessions, most clients experience a reduction or elimination of stress-related symptoms.

IMPORTANT: Quantum Biofeedback is for stress reduction only. The device is NOT approved for the diagnosis or treatment of disease. Please see your primary care physician for medical advice. No claims are made of the device or the therapies.
